■■■ video editor

I am an experienced and versatile Editor of factual programmes for broadcast television. Formerly at ITV, I have been in this role for twenty three years and a freelancer for fifteen. I confidently edit across all genres; from documentaries to magazine shows to factual entertainment. My recent broadcast credits include:

Equally at home as part of a team or working independently, I regularly structure from rushes and contribute ideas to scripts. I can keep to the schedules, whilst still delivering the high standards expected. I'll maintain an attention to detail, even on 'fast turnaround' programmes.
