Hobbies & Interests

From the age of three, I have been in various dance classes and schools. From ballet, tap, to street and musical theatre, I have learnt multiple disciplines and spent dedicated time practicing and performing on stage across the UK. From week to week, I had to adapt to different dance routines and roles. This experience gave me the ability to follow set routines and a healthy work ethic.

At Guides, I learnt the value of teamwork and independence. Each week, I would take on activities and challenges with my fellow Guides. For example, charity events that we helped to set up and run, games that required teamwork, and learning key skills such as how to set up tents smoothly at camps. This experience taught and equipped me with the ability to become a part of any team, no matter what the task is. Currently, I have ambitions to break into the nail art industry, and my time dancing and studying at BOA has equipped me with attention to detail and the level-headedness needed to achieve these aspirations.

Overall, I believe I will carry my past experience, ambition and motivation into the workplace and become a valued team-player.
